

MORE POLICEMEN.

The City Marshal Wants Additional Help.

What Are the Needs of the City?

Mr. Blankenship Has Too Much Work for His Present Force—To Ask the Council for Help.

Phoenix needs a larger police force. That is the opinion of City Marshal Blankenship upon the question, and the city marshal is in a position to know.

Under the present arrangement, Marshal Blankenship has but one assistant, and that one is on duty at night. It is a practical impossibility for one man to thoroughly police so large a town as Phoenix, and the result is that, in order to do the work effectually, the city marshal must be up during the greater part of the night and on duty also in the daytime. Besides his work of policing the city, the marshal is also assessor and tax collector, license collector, poundmaster, street commissioner and health officer. With all these duties to perform, it follows rationally, as Mr. Blankenship himself says, that he cannot police the town as it should be done. He must attend to the street work, for instance, in the day time—and he must also very shortly commence making the assessment and then remain in his office all day to collect taxes. As there is but one of him, he cannot stay in his office receiving money and be out superintending street work at the same time.

"I would be content," the city marshal said in conversing with a reporter for THE REPUBLICAN upon this topic yesterday, "with one more man. Then I could have the work divided up between the three so that no one man would have more than he could do, and I would be left freer from the cares of public work. This man could be secured at a cost to the city of $75 per month, and the added security that would be given citizens would be worth more than that to the city. What the city really should have is a man for each ward. Then a regular patrol could be established and the city would be well guarded at all times. Such a force would easily keep suspicious characters under constant surveillance, thus preventing a very great deal of mischief, and could also preserve order amongst those who are naturally inclined to be turbulent. However, I could pretty effectually police the city with another man."

The city council meets one week from tonight and the matter of increasing the police force will probably be brought to the attention of that body.

It is certainly an affair in which every good citizen is interested. To be sure there are a very few cities of the size of Phoenix—certainly none in the west—that have so little of the lawless element in proportion to the population. Crimes of a serious nature do occur here, as witness the Chinese murder the other night, but their occurrence is exceedingly rare, while as to the lesser offenses—such as burglary and grand larceny and arson—their commission is extremely infrequent. Street fights and brawls, too, very rarely take place.

There are here, however, a number of persons who are given to the commission of petty offenses, and these persons, Marshal Blankenship says, he finds it necessary to keep under constant surveillance.

With a regular police patrol this watch would be taken from the Marshal's shoulders, while at the same time it would be made much more effective by reason of the increased force on guard.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The electric light is proving a decided success wherever it is being tried.

One of the things that Phoenix will begin to need to prepare for its future destiny as a great city is a thoroughly effective system of sewerage.

Mrs. Lindley was bitten by a centipede in the yard at her residence, yesterday afternoon. It is not apprehended that an serious results will follow the bite.

An improvement in the street car service would be very much appreciated by residents in the suburbs. There should be more cars and they should run at more frequent intervals and late at nights.

The money subscribed for the widow of Dr. Osborne was intended solely for the use of the widow and children, it not being the intention of the donors that any part of the sum should go to the payment of old debts.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

John MacGregor, of Brooklyn, owns the claymore carried by Rob Roy. Bishop Newman has been appointed to visit Japan and hold the Methodist conference there in July.

Alan Arthur, son of the late President Arthur, has no taste in the direction of politics. All his predilections are social.

Count Herbert Bismarck, the son of Prince Bismarck, will spend a few weeks in England as the guest of Earl Rosebury.

It appears that there is a movement on foot in London to have Robert Louis Stevenson made the British Consul at Samoa.

Richard Vaux, who has been elected in Philadelphia to succeed Mr. Randall, bears a remarkable resemblance to James Russell Lowell.

Lord Acton is the best read man in England, according to Mr. Gladstone, and has a library of upward of 100,000 volumes, most of which bear unmistakable evidence of having been read.

Henry Furniss, the caricaturist of Punch, has made many enemies among the royal academicians by poking pictorial fun at them.

George Meredith has been suggested as Lord Tennyson's successor in the post laureateship of England. Algernon Swinburne is also mentioned.

Grace Greenwood is described as a woman with large features and very dark hair, which she combs down over her ears in an old fashioned way.

Mrs. Edward Morrell, of Philadelphia, formerly Miss Drexel, has received the gift of a colt of the mare formerly owned by General Grant, and now owned by G. W. Childs.

The visit of the Persian Shah's favorite wife to Vienna has done her much good. The two surgeons who treated her have saved her sight, and, incidentally, the heads of the astrologers who advised the trip. They are said to get $8,000 as their joint fee.

Kowalski, a Pole, once "the Poole of Paris," committed suicide week before last in a garret. Twenty years ago he had a magnificent shop in the Passage des Princesses, and cut for the swells of the day. He gave too much credit and became bankrupt.

RAILROAD NEWS.

What the Papers of the Territory Pick Up in This Way.

The railroads never before hauled so much mining machinery into the Territory.

The Silver King mill at Pinal started up last week and is working the old tailings over.

The Grand Canyon excitement has died out. Plenty of gold there, but the ledges have no depth.

The Courier says: "A promising ledge carrying gold and silver was recently found almost in rifle shot of Prescott."

The 20-stamp mill of the Congress is working day and night concentrating ore of the Congress mine. Shipments for a month past have averaged a carload a day; concentrates are rich in gold or they would not bear expense of mining and shipping.

Five cars of lumber (for building and timbering mines) for the Aravaipa Mining company, arrived here this week, consigned to Judge Nichols, and is now being sent forward to the new camp by Agent Renaud, according to the Wilcox Stockman.

Wm. Fowler and Charles Noble were at Wilcox, from Dos Cabezas on Tuesday, says the Stockman. They stated that the quartz mill at that place, after about a month's run, closed down Sunday, but only temporarily. Good ore is being taken out of several mines.

A sale of the Ray copper mine, located on the San Pedro, is being negotiated, says the Tucson Star. The parties are now examining the property. The Ray is a valuable mining property which will doubtless bring future wealth to its purchasers.

The Los Angeles Express has the following that is of local interest: J. D. Cusenbury, of Yuma, is in the city at the Hollenbeck. Mr. Cusenbury is the owner of the Laguna mine, which is located on the banks of the Colorado river about fifteen miles north of Yuma. In these claims, which are gold placers, he has 320 acres, but all told Mr. Cusenbury is the owner of 3,000 acres. He is here for the purpose of buying machinery, and as soon as he returns he will put in operation a large pumping plant for hydraulic mining. He considers the outlook for the development of the gold placers in California and Arizona on the desert very bright. He brought in several very fine nuggets and states that Mexicans have been taking out as high as $3 worth of gold in a pan dry washing. Mr. Cusenbury has two claims at Gila City, A. T., for which he has been offered $10,000. He reports that a St. Louis company have put in an extensive plant for hydraulic mining in the Pechacho district in Arizona.

Will Win on Merit.

[Wilcox Stockman.]

THE ARIZONA REPUBLICAN, Phoenix's new daily paper, published its first issue on Monday. As its name implies, it is Republican in politics. It is a seven-column folio, makes a neat and artistic typographical appearance, has a very complete telegraphic press report, and its local and editorial columns show the handiwork of trained journalists. The Republican is a paper that our capital city may well feel proud of, and it will undoubtedly achieve success by merit.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Original Packages Bill a Special Order.

Report of the Committee on Appropriations Expected to Report All the Bills.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—In the senate the naval appropriation bill will come up tomorrow as unfinished business. By agreement the original packages bill is a special order for Tuesday.

Doubtless the silver bill will get a hearing this week. Pugh will speak on it if a chance offers. Sherman may also speak.

The committee on appropriations is expected to have the fortifications and legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills ready to report during the week.

Probably the remainder of the river and harbor appropriation bill will be disposed of by the House tomorrow.

A conference on the anti-trust bill may be presented early in the week and will doubtless give rise to much debate as the report is unacceptable to some Democrats.

The Alabama election case is again postponed.

The Size of Royal Heads

[Pall Mall Gazette.]

The Prince of Wales wears bell-shaped silk hats. He pays 25 shillings each for them. He has a remarkably even-shaped head, the hatters say, and his size is 7½. Prince Albert Victor only takes a 6¼. The brims of his hats are enormously arched, to take off the effect of his long face. His brother, Prince George, takes a 6½. The Emperor of Germany, who has a very uneven head, takes a 6¾. So does the Duke of Teck.

A Touching Introduction.

From the Tucson Star.

Hon. Brewster Cameron has gone to the capital, the home of the governor and the Phoenix Gazette. The Star hopes he will call on the latter, as Brother Dunbar is apt to discover the difference between Cameron and some of his detractors. It will not require much effort to make the discovery.

Alarmed About Our Jaw Power.

[The Valley Bulletin.]

The first number of the ARIZONA REPUBLICAN, the new paper at Phoenix, is before us. It is a creditable paper, and if kept up to the mark outlined in the first issue, will reflect credit on Arizona wherever it goes. Honestly, however, we believe the REPUBLICAN has encircled with its jaws more than it will ever be able to masticate in Arizona. Success to the new enterprise.

Ex-Gov. A. P. K. Safford, of Arizona, cured of nervous prostration in three weeks recommends Dr. MacLennan very highly. Attorney-General Marshall's reply to Hon. T. F. Jones.

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, SAN FRANCISCO, March 15, 1884.

Hon. T. F. JONES—My Dear Sir: I have just received your letter of the 13th. Doctor MacLennan was of great and singular service to me. I certainly would try him if I were in your place. He has worked some wonderful changes within my knowledge. Respectfully, E. C. MARSHALL.

Now read what Doctor A. S. Hughes, a medical practitioner of forty years, whom Dr. MacLennan cured, has to say:

TESTIMONY OF DOCTOR HUGHES.

The undersigned, a resident of the town of Slaughter, King County, W. T., has been afflicted for over two years with a disease termed by some physicians episthemia, by others, tie doubleurex, from which I have suffered at times the most excruciating pains, only relieved by hot fomentation. The disease and pain started in my upper jaw on the right side, under the right eye, the nose, extending up through the bones of the face, and finally to the right side of the head affecting my eyes.

My own skill, being a practicing physician for over forty years, and counsel from several others of good repute, failed to give me any relief. I applied to Dr. MacLennan and received seven treatments from him and in truth must say that I was relieved of all pain. I sleep well, eat without pain and enjoy a peaceful and pleasant state of mind.

A. S. HUGHES, M. D.

Dr. A. Boyce, of Toledo, Wash., testifies: "This is to certify that I was quite deaf. I called on Dr. MacLennan and in three applications he cured me. I recommend the doctor, as I believe he is doing much good."

Dr. A. V. Boyce, of Toledo, W. T., Prof. A. Gonzales, of San Francisco, given up by his physicians to the aid of sapped vitality and paralysis, was carried perfectly helpless to MacLennan and cured, now says:

"In less than one month I was enabled to resume my occupation as professor of music and violinist at the Tivoli opera house, and ever since, for over eight years, have continued in good health without the slightest return of my weakness or disease."

Dr. Henry Slade says: "My case was considered incurable by the best physicians, but Dr. MacLennan restored me the use of my limbs in less than twenty minutes, being paralyzed for over four months."

Rev. John Stipp, Secy. Lian Co., Oregon, writes: "By the recommendation of my son-in-law, J. C. L. Miller, whom you treated successfully for rheumatism, and his wife also for a diseased shoulder and nervousness, I submit my case to you."

SAN JOSE REFERENCES.

J. W. THOMAS, 313 South First street, who was a great sufferer, going about on crutches, threw them away after receiving his third treatment from Dr. MacLennan.
